Providing a Winning Service

In the construction industry, Thomas Telford, first president of the Institution of Civil Engineers defined Civil Engineering as 'the art of directing the great sources of power in nature for the use and convenience of man.' Each construction project is unique and built by different parties working together to create something unique. Through this process, change is inevitable. Quantum recognises this and focuses on amicable resolution and dispute avoidance. However, when time is critical and costs are high, disputes can arise. This can affect an entire project and not just the parties directly involved and resolution can be a time consuming and expensive process.

Led by highly experienced professionals with skills in all matters of construction and dispute resolution, the Quantum Litigation Support Team provides comprehensive and proactive services to assist our clients in resolving any disputes.

Quantum offers a unique approach to litigation support including:

- Specialist knowledge and experience in all disciplines
- Integrated teams allowing us to combine specialist expertise to provide a single comprehensive opinion and position
- A suite of specialist computer software able to analyse issues and project positions

Dispute Avoidance

Our teams are able to advise on contract construction and dispute avoidance techniques by drawing on the many years of global experience. This can be incorporated into contractual agreements during the initial procurement phase of a project.

The adoption of appropriate strategies can reduce the instances of dispute and allow a project to proceed at a more efficient and economical manner increasing margins for all involved from Employer to Contractor.

Litigation Support

When an issue escalates to arbitration, mediation, adjudication or litigation, Quantum can assist in preparing a comprehensive and fully substantiated entitlement submission. This includes clearly identifying and highlighting the significant issues and separating them from the non-critical issues that surround most cases. These services support and complement the services of the legal teams.

Providing the appropriate level of service at the right time progresses a case in a more efficient manner.

Construction disputes are normally extremely complex and specialised. Quantum experts can assist a client's legal team in framing claim and defence cases and documentation. Our team are able to quickly and efficiently draw upon their experience to identify the real issues in dispute allowing for a more focused submission.

Quantum Digital

It is a fact that 90% of the information transmitted to the brain is visual, and our brain processes visual images 60,000 times faster than text. As the saying goes, 'a picture tells a thousand words'.

To leverage this fact, Quantum has developed an in-house media team specifically dedicated to the preparation of innovative movie format DVDs including 3D graphics, multimedia presentations, film, photography and key contract extracts to demonstrate a party's position clearly and concisely.

Construction issues are complex by their nature. Media can be used to present issues clearly, concisely and with a focused message aligned to the desired outcomes. This service can be used in conjunction with Quantum Litigation Support services.
